Credit consumption

In consumable mode, full use of Delta2D and Paver is limited to activated data. Delta2D and Paver will demand for an internet connection to activate data.

In Delta2D, activation of each single image consumes one credit.

Exceptions:

- Fused images are free if you activate them in the session in which they are created.
- Images that have been activated in the same account before are free.

In Paver, the activation of each data set consumes one credit. Every hierarchy is one data set, also every data set leading to a certain visualisation.

Examples:

- Activation of one hierarchy plus data sets for 3 single conditions will consume 4 credits and result in 3 visualisations.
- Activation of a hierarchy plus 2 data sets which shall be automatically averaged when loaded will consume 2 credits and result in 1 visualisation.

Delta2D and Paver are available for Windows, Mac, and Linux.
